MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

NECA FILE

SUBJECT: Preliminary Results of the 1980 Census of Population

September 8, 1980

Pursuant to Batas Pambansa Blg. 72 - An Act Providing for the Taking of an Integrated Census Every 10 years Beginning in the Year 1980 and For Other Purposes, I have the honor to submit herewith the preliminary results of the census of population of the Philippines by municipality/city/province as conducted by the National Census and Statistics Office. This count was based on handtallies at the barangay level of reports by census enumerators and careful evaluation by their supervisors.

Of the 39,926 barangays, only 461 were either not enumerated or partially enumerated due to the critical peace and order condition. About 54% of these barangays are in the province of Lanao del Sur. Reasonable estimates, however, were made of the inhabitants in these areas and these estimates are included in the report of their respective municipalities.

Until the final report of the population at the barangay level is made on or before December 31, 1980 as provided for in this Act and because of the current great demand of the population count from all sectors including the public, I am recommending that this count be proclaimed as official and should be used by all government agencies in their planning and/or appraisal of development activities relating to population and its distribution as of May 1, 1980 and other population-related matters.

The President's approval of this preliminary results will enable us to use them officially for purposes of government.

⇒ For approval.

GERARDO P. SICAT

FOREWORD

This preliminary report on the 1980 Census of Population conducted as of May 1 is based on the handtally of the lists of households prepared by the census enumerators. In order to meet the urgent demand for population data, this report is released pursuant to Letter of Instruction No. 1083 dated November 19, 1980 "for official use by all agencies and instrumentalities of the government, including local governments and government-owned or controlled corporations, in their planning and/or appraisal of development activities relating to population and its distribution as of May 1, 1980 and other population-related matters."

The final population count at the barangay level will be submitted to the President on or before the end of the year as mandated by Batas Pambansa Blg. 72 and will be available for distribution early next year.

1980 CENSUS OF POPULATION
(Preliminary)

BRIEF ANALYSIS

The preliminary population figure for the Philippines as of May 1, 1980 is 47,914,017 of which 24,028,523 are males and 23,885,494 are females. This indicates an addition of 5,843,357 persons to the population enumerated on May 1, 1975 which was 42,070,660. This puts the geometric rate of growth of the population between 1975 and 1980 at 2.64 per annum. The country's population growth has continued to decelerate during the last half of the seventies. It should be noted that the annual growth rate of 2.78 percent for the first half of the decade, 1970 to 1975, declined by 0.14 percentage points to 2.64 percent for the second half of the decade, 1975-1980.

The national sex ratio is 100.6 males for every 100 females: the 1975 sex ratio was 102.3 males for every 100 females. The density is 160 persons per square kilometer, compared with 139 persons in 1975.

REGIONAL ANALYSIS

Population Distribution - A major concentration of the country's population is observed in two regions, the National Capital Region and Southern Tagalog (Table 1). Together, these two regions hold about a quarter (12 million) of the total population. The reason for this may be partly due to the continued influx of population from the rest of the country. Being the most urbanized and most economically developed regions of the country, the sustained in-migration of population can only be expected.

Classified by broad regions, Luzon holds more than half of the total population (54.40 percent); Visayas, less than a quarter (23.24 percent); and Mindanao, a little more than a fifth (22.36 percent).

Ranked by population size, the regions stand as follows:

Region	Population	Rank
Southern Tagalog	6,114,447	1
National Capital Region	5,924,563	2
Central Luzon	4,794,382	3
Western Visayas	4,531,932	4
Central Visayas	3,789,325	5
Ilocos	3,543,632	6
Bicol	3,467,028	7
Southern Mindanao	3,310,702	8
Eastern Visayas	2,812,753	9
Northern Mindanao	2,746,480	10
Western Mindanao	2,446,558	11
Cagayan Valley	2,220,244	12
Central Mindanao	2,211,971	13

Growth Rates - In terms of annual growth rates, regional differentials are noted. For the thirteen regions of the country, six are above the national growth rate of 2.64 percent (2.81 percent to 4.05 percent) while seven are below it (1.33 percent to 2.63 percent).

Both the most and the least rapidly growing regions in the country turned out to be in Mindanao. Southern Mindanao (Region XI) registered the highest annual growth rate of 4.05 percent although it holds only a population of about 7 percent of the country's total. Central Mindanao (Region XII) whose peace and order situation has been rather unstable in the last few years, experienced a slackening in the growth of its population and registered the lowest annual growth rate of 1.33 percent during the period 1975-1980. However, Mindanao as a broad region comprising Western, Northern, Southern and Central has been growing relatively faster at the rate of 3.22 percent per annum as against 2.72 percent in Luzon and 1.90 percent in the Visayas.

Growth rates for the regions located in Luzon range from a low of 1.62 percent for Ilocos to a high of 3.58 percent for Metro Manila.

Population growth between 1975-1980 in the three Visayas regions, namely: Western Visayas (1.79 percent), Central Visayas (2.27 percent) and Eastern Visayas (1.59 percent) has remained relatively slow. All three grew less than the national rate. Eastern Visayas or Region VIII which is considered to be one of the least developed regions, apparently suffered major losses of population by out-migration.

Sex Ratio - The sex ratios of the population at regional levels tend to be more uneven. In the National Capital Region, the females outnumber the males with a ratio of 93 males for every 100 females. That is, of course, an almost universal characteristic observed in all urban centers of the world. A male-favored sex ratio, however, is common in the frontier lands of Mindanao. Indeed, all four regions of Mindanao have more males than females. The highest sex ratio is observed in Southern Mindanao, Region XI, where males outnumber the females by a ratio of 104 males to 100 females.

PROVINCIAL ANALYSIS

Variations in population size are considerable for the 73 provinces of the country excluding Metro Manila. Table 3 shows the range from a high of 2.09 million for Cebu to a low of 12.1 thousand for Batanes. Thirteen provinces have now passed more than one-million mark with Cebu, Negros Occidental, Pangasinan, Iloilo and Leyte maintaining their rank over the last five years.

However, if the cities are excluded from their respective provinces (Table 4) only seven provinces maintain a population of more than one million as shown below:

Province	1980 Population
	Including Cities	Rank	Excluding Cities	Rank
Cebu	2,090,317	1	1,243,009	2
Negros Occidental	1,936,770	2	1,198,224	3
Pangasinan	1,636,520	3	1,436,904	1
Iloilo	1,432,000	4	1,187,789	4
Leyte	1,302,377	5	1,094,856	6
Zamboanga del Sur	1,178,700	6	*
Pampanga	1,175,314	7	*
Batangas	1,173,767	8	*
Davao del Sur	1,134,436	9	*
Quezon	1,129,138	10	1,021,266	7
Camarines Sur	1,100,044	11	*
Bulacan	1,095,963	12	1,095,963	5
Nueva Ecija	1,069,406	13	*

* Less than 1 million.

It may be noted that Pangasinan outranked Cebu when its city population was removed. Bulacan is the only province among the top 13 provinces without a city.

Among the least populated provinces with less than 100,000 population are: Quirino (83,232), Siquijor (70,161), Camiguin (57,128) and Batanes (12,111).

As far as growth rate is concerned, Table 3 (Provincial population including cities) shows that Rizal registered the highest growth rate of 5.92 percent followed by Sulu with 5.78 percent. If the city population is excluded from the province (Table 4), Rizal and Sulu maintain the lead with the same percentage.

The third highest growth rate went to Quirino with 4.82 percent, displacing South Cotabato whose rate decreased to only 4.64 percent when its city population was removed. Other provinces whose growth rates decreased when their city population was removed are: South Cotabato, Misamis Oriental, Palawan, Surigao del Norte and Agusan del Norte. On the other hand, the exclusion of the city population of Laguna and Cavite resulted in an increased growth rate.

The comparative rates of provinces in Tables 3 and 4 with high growth rates (more than 4 percent) follows:

Province	Population Growth Rate
	'Including' 'Cities'	Rank	'Excluding' 'Cities'	Rank
Rizal	5.92	1	5.92	1
Sulu	5.78	2	5.78	2
South Cotabato	5.54	3	4.64	4
Quirino	4.92	4	4.82	3
Misamis Oriental	4.38	5	4.33	5
Palawan	4.33	6	4.15	6
Surigao del Norte	4.33	7	*
Cavite	4.20	8	4.64	4
Bataan	4.10	9	4.10	8
Agusan del Sur	4.09	10	4.09	9
Agusan del Norte	4.05	11	*
Bulacan	4.03	12	4.03	10
Laguna	*	-	4.12	7

Migration contributes largely to disparities in the growth of the provinces. Provinces that experience rapid growth are generally those offering diverse economic opportunities on account of the accelerated development going on therein.

Only Lanao del Sur experienced a negative growth rate of 4.09 per-cent perhaps on account of out-migration due to unstable peace and order situation in the area.

ANALYSIS OF CITIES AND MUNICIPALITIES

Of the 60 cities of the country, only two reached the one million

* Less than 4 percent.

mark - the primate city of Manila with 1.626 million and Quezon City, the National Capital City with 1.165 million population (Table 4). The next largest city with more than half a million population is Davao followed by Cebu (489,208) and Caloocan (471,289).

A number of cities increased in size at extremely high growth rates: General Santos (9.96 percent), Mandawe (7.83 percent), Iligan (6.89 percent), Cagayan de Oro (6.69 percent), Cotabato (5.69 percent), Zamboanga (5.37 percent), Butuan (5.38 percent), Puerto Princesa (5.36 percent), and Dipolog (5.05 percent). The rest of the cities either increased or decreased their population size with growth rates ranging from -3.43 to 4.92. Cities with negative growth rates are: Marawi (-3.43 percent), Iriga (-2.72 percent), Canlaon (-0.25 percent) and Silay (-0.17 percent).

The growth of the 4 cities in Metro Manila deserves special attention. Expectedly, Manila has a declining annual growth rate (1.91 percent) which seems to show that since Manila is already dense and cannot accommodate more people, residents who find the city too crowded has spilled over to the nearby areas. This is reflected in the higher rates observed for Quezon City (4.03 percent), Caloocan City (3.48 percent) and Pasay City (2.36 percent).

Among the 1,503 municipalities across the country, 4 have population size of less than 1,000; 274 have sizes ranging from 1,000 to 10,000 and 1,225 have populations over 10,000. The first ten most populous municipalities in the country are: Makati (1), Pasig (2), Valenzuela (3), Marikina (4), Mandaluyong (5), Parañaque (6), Malabon (7), Muntinlupa (8), Tagig (9), and Las Piñas (10). All of these are located in Metro Manila.

The four smallest municipalities in terms of population size are Kalayaan of Palawan (369), Carasi (421) and Dumalneg (602) both of Ilocos Norte and Ivana of Batanes (970).
